

ESI has a history of focusing on innovative execution practices to provide world class service to our customers. Our expert Project Managers and Project Controls personnel drive our proven methodologies in execution and tracking to successfully complete the millions of dollars of project work we perform daily. Due to an increasing demand to apply our unique project execution skillsets and expertise, ESI has created a dedicated division to help our clients succeed with all the projects they execute.

Welcome to PROJECTPATH

ProjectPath understands how to execute projects. With our roots forged from the knowledge and systems developed over 40 years of successful complex industrial project execution by our parent company. ProjectPath provides access to our proprietary systems to ensure every project is completed safely, on time, and under budget. With our "PathFinder Solutions" programs you can have confidence to navigate the most complex project situations to a successful outcome. ProjectPath will provide you with the knowledge of how best to execute the work, the best plan for that execution, whether you have the right resources, and how to track, monitor and report in real time.
